PureLogic IT Solutions — Hiring Team

Re: Implementation Specialist – Senior Linux and Cloud Engineer (Kanata, ON)

Hello,

I am applying for the Implementation Specialist – Senior Linux and Cloud Engineer role. The combination of Linux administration, cloud, and automation with Ansible, Terraform or similar matches how my career has developed.

My Linux background is hands-on. At Tink I automated OS patching and kernel reboots across 600+ servers, reducing maintenance to a monthly verification check, and managed configuration with Puppet and Spacewalk. I supported a 24/7 production rotation, built ELK log aggregation, and automated recovery of an unresponsive Elasticsearch cluster. Before that, at SOVO, I ran the company's IT infrastructure and a team of technicians, completed a server relocation without downtime, and made core servers redundant. That work included VMware vSphere and Cisco networking.

For the last five years my main cloud has been Azure. At Énergir I helped a team move its Nexus, Jenkins and Vault environments from manual portal operations to infrastructure as code, and introduced Azure Key Vault. At Desjardins I built a Python/FastAPI service that tested about 250 Artifactory repositories every four hours and published results to Dynatrace, and I used Kubernetes and ArgoCD to build on-demand test environments. I have also centralized Jenkins CI/CD for 12 teams and 70+ applications.

To be direct about the gaps: my Terraform and Ansible work was inside another team's workflows rather than modules I authored. My AWS experience is a single migration target environment I built by hand that the client cancelled before cutover, and I have no GCP. My Kubernetes experience is deploying applications to clusters other teams operate. I have no cloud or Kubernetes certifications and no experience in air-gapped environments. I have mentored colleagues informally but have not led client engagements as a consultant. I would want to understand how the role's customer-facing side works.

I am bilingual in French and English and available immediately. Could you tell me the salary range, the expected office days in Kanata, how often customer-site travel is, and whether the federal client work needs a security clearance? My resume is attached.

Thank you for your consideration.
